The Chronicle Star of Pascagoula has two editors, Easton King and Ira Harkey. Easton writes a column each week, "Over The Editor's Desk," and his column for last week is reprinted below. He makes an excellent point, one which any person with intelligence will consider.

"The other night we listened to our senior senator of the US high tribunal and the federal criticism of the US high tribunal and the federal courts generally. Place was the Buena Vista hotel and occasion the 90th annual meeting of the state press association. Actions of the court verge on revolution by judiciary, or words to that effect, Eastland told his audience.

"As one example he cited a recent decision which held that federal sedition laws superseded and set aside similar state stautues. The federal Congress is going to fix this with remedial legislation, he said.

"There lies the heart of the situation. But Eastland and the rest don't explain it when they scream about the supreme court. The laws and guarantees under which we live are made by Congress or written into the Constitution. The court simply interprets their meaning.

"If the law is wrong, or the court interpretation other than the intent of Congress or the Constitution then all Congress has to do is pass remedial legislation which pin points its intent. Or submit a constitutional amendment to the states for ratification.

"The court ruled, as we recall it, some two or three times in favor of the federal government in the tidelands dispute. This was an issue in the last presidential election and legislation specifically giving the tidelands to the states was a plank in Eisenhowers' platform. He was elected legislation was passed by Congress, signed by Eisenhower and the states now have the tidelands despite court rulings to the contrary.

"The same was true in the dispute over federal control of natural gas pipeline distribution prices. The court favored the federal government. Congress passed legislation giving it to the states. But both Truman and Eisenhower vetoed that one.

"And then there's the case of the 18th amendment which wrote national prohibition into our constitution. Congress passed, a ma-

Mr. P. D. East, Editor
The Petal Paper
Petal, Mississippi.

Dear Mr. East:

I read The Petal Paper regularly. Your style is very refreshing. Just this morning I was reading the June 7th paper and burst out in hysterical laughter. It was minutes before I was able to read between gusts from the paragraph about the rat race in the South re NAACP.

It is amazing that anyone in Mississippi has the courage to take a stand for right where Negroes are concerned. Everyone to whom I show The Petal Paper is amazed and asks if I know you.

I trust that you will be awarded the Neiman Fellowship but with the proviso you continue your work with the paper. Like the lady who wrote sometime ago, I think, Mississippi needs you now.

Sincerely,
R. Lyells

The Moving Finger Writes

The Pendulum Swings And Swings

Since that early day when Mr. Cain hired help on his farm there has been contention between Labor and Capital. There seems little question of the differences, labor stating that capital was taking advantage, exploiting their labor without ample reward, and capital stating that they, by virtue of ownership, had a right to their profits, all they could make, and if labor wanted more let them become capitalists.

Actually, as we see it, they have both been right, and at the same they have both been wrong.

The rich certainly have rights, but no more than the poor. The laborer has no more right than the capitalist. They have equal rights, as citizens, as human beings, and either infringing on the rights of the other is detrimental to all persons.

However, the picture of the age old struggle between the two is certainly plain, in that prior to about 1900 capital took every advantage possible, fair or unfair, of the laboring group. Finally, by their short-sightedness the capitalists brought organized labor into being, and it has become a force difficult to reckon with for over a half-century now.

Both sides have made grevious blunders which were costly to millions not involved in any way in the matter. But with the advent of organized labor, the pendulum began to swing in the opposite direction. How far it has swung is difficult to say, but it is not hard to see that it has gone a good distance. Thus, in too many instances, the labor leaders have taken the same advantage of the capitalists that for centuries he accused the capitalists of taking of him. The shoe, it seems, is on the other foot.

shops. They have been, indeed, are, guilty of the same stupidity that brought the first labor organization down around the heads of the capitalists. Results have been, as relative proof of our conclusion, "right to work" laws passed by seventeen states.

Yet, labor, generally speaking, feels it has won another great victory in the recent Supreme Court decision in which a railway worker in Nebraska has been forced to join the union or lose his job. This doesn't set too well with any intelligent person who sees in it a threat to basic Constitutional guarantees of freedom. And, to be sure, that's exactly how we see it.

In the long run it will result in a defeat for labor, not a victory. Because those millions who have been inconvienced from time to time by union-management clashes, those who have no personal stake in either side, are certain to view this as a potential threat to them. And it is, to be sure.

The forcing of a man to join something in which he may not believe is to weaken the organization which he is forced into. Force is stupid; leaders should make their union so attractive that a person wants to join. True, labor argues that a person has no right to receive benefits for which they have fought and won over a period of years without supporting them. We agree, they have a good argument. But they are overlooking certain basic liberties, which, if denied to the individual, will eventually result in the fall and destruction of both labor and capital.

We go all the way with inducement by labor of the individual, but we can-

Optimist Notes . . .

Colmer Explains Highway Program In Talk To Club

Mississippi's stake in the new national highway construction program was discussed Thursday night at the regular weekly meeting of the Petal Optimist Club.

The speaker was Don Colmer, former state legislator who is now public relations representative for the Portland Cement Association. Colmer was introduced by a former legislative colleague, Ulmer Byrd, a member of the club.

Under the new construction program, Mississippi will build 684 miles of four-lane "superhighways" along the routes of present U. S. Highways 11, 51, 80 and 90, Colmer said. These highways in Mississippi are part of a 40,000-mile network of "interstate highways" which will link the principle cities of America.

Although they comprise only 1.2 percent of the total road mileage in America, these routes are handling about one-seventh of all the traffic.

Colmer explained how steadily increasing traffic volume and weight was creating hazardous conditions on the nation's highways, and said traffic experts predicted a saving of one life a year for each ten miles of modern highway construction.

This, he said, would result in saving approximately 68 lives in Mississippi each year by the construction of these roads.

Mr. Colmer also explained briefly how the state gasoline tax is allocated for the construction and maintenance of state and county roads. He urged club members to take an active interest in highway matters to insure that road dollars were wisely invested.

The meeting was conducted by Dr. O. N. Ashcraft, president of the club.

Jr. Guild Holds Pledge Service

The Jr. Wesleyan Service Guild of the Petal Methodist Church held its monthly meeting June 7 at 7:30 P. M. in the home of Mrs. Joan James with Mrs. Jean Bishop as co-hostess.

Mrs. Joyce Frazier gave her report from the annual Guild Weekend Conference held in McComb, May 19-20.

Sarah Brewer, Sec. Literature and Publications solicited subscriptions to Methodist Woman and World Outlook.

A committee was selected to select a new name for the Guild.

Mrs. Mary Herrington was in charge of the program, "Take My Life and Let It Be",the annual Pledge Service. A food and cross centerpiece representing the needs of the world was used. Pledge cards were passed and members placed their written pledges on the barren side of the centerpiece symbolizing their wish to help balance the need. Those taking part on the program were Mesdames Willie Lou Rouse, Joyce Frazier and Bernice Myers, who conducted the devotional and closed the meeting with prayer.

Angelfood cake with Orange Delight Topping and fresh orange juice was served to 13 members and one guest, Mrs. Lib Wilks.

The next meeting is to be July 5 at the home of Ruby Byrd.

last presidential election and legislation specifically giving the tidelands to the states was a plank in Eisenhowers' platform. He was elected legislation was passed by Congress, signed by Eisenhower and the states now have the tidelands despite court rulings to the contrary.

"The same was true in the dispute over federal control of natural gas pipeline distribution prices. The court favored the federal government. Congress passed legislation giving it to the states. But both Truman and Eisenhower vetoed that one.

"And then there's the case of the 18th amendment which wrote national prohibition into our constitution. Congress passed, a majority of the people favored it, the states ratified it, but prohibition didn't work. Congress and the states revised the process and repealed it. Simple as that.

"Of course, such actions require majority approval of Congress or the states. That happens to be the Democratic procedure. And unfortunately—or fortunately, according to how you look at it—the rest of the nation and even a good many Mississippians don't always see eye-to-eye with Jim.

"But Jim doesn't tell you that side of it. The supreme court is a convenient target and he makes the most of it."

Ira Harkey, the other half of the Chronicle team, writes a column, "And Under The Editor's Desk." His column for last week, I thought, was exceptionally good, too. I am passing it along for your information, reading pleasure, if you prefer.

"A sensible view on the segregation question was well expressed in Pascagoula Monday by Boyd Campbell of Jackson.

"Campbell, one of Mississippi's leading businessmen and the only Mississippian to become president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, spoke at the Pascagolua chamber's annual banquet.

"His remarks were made more or less an lib, and we wish he had enlarged on them.

"The South is very much in the public eye because of segregation," Campbell stated. "I sometime think we are too much preoccupied with it.

"I have no formula for a solution, but perhaps what someone told me in Memphis a few days ago might have some value.

"He said, 'If everybody would shut up about it for a year, we'd all be better off.'

"Great progress had been made in 10 years toward better understanding between the races. This progress was made at the local level by men of good will of the white race and men of good will of the colored race.

"The progress stopped when the NAACP took over and local Negro opinion was put into the background. The situation in the Deep South does not lend itself to a superimposed solution placed upon it from anywhere else. This thing must be settled where it originated.

"If and when the tumult and the shouting die, we shall have to start the long, slow process of rebuilding.

"There are two things that are imperative. First, we must not lose our tempers. Second, we must keep the lines of communication open between the right kind of white people and the right kind of colored people."

"This fits with the observation made several weeks ago before the Kiwanis Club by the Rev. Frank E. Dement. "The voices being raised on the question are the voices of the extremes," Dement said.

"Certainly NAACP leaders have been guilty

Opti-Mrs. Hold Regular Meeting

The Petal Opti-Mrs Club held its June business meeting Monday night at the Petal Community Center.

By-Lays of the club were completed and accepted.

The following committee chairmen were appointed: Mrs. Herman Smith, Membership; Mrs. O. E. Jones, Decoration; Mrs. Douglas Tisdale, Fellowship; Mrs. Louise Radke, Telephone; Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Sunshine; Ways and Means, Mrs. John McElhaney Year Book, Mrs. M. H. Craig; Publicity, Mrs. Joe Lingle.

New members introduced to the club were Mrs. Pat Warren and Mrs. John McElhaney.

Ladies eligible to join the club are Wives, Mothers and Daughters eighteen years old or older of the members of the Petal Optimist Club.

Light refreshmnts were served at close of meeting.

Mrs. Burrell Young, President conducted the meeting.

reckon with for over a half century now.

Both sides have made grevious blunders which were costly to millions not involved in any way in the matter. But with the advent of organized labor, the pendulum began to swing in the opposite direction. How far it has swung is difficult to say, but it is not hard to see that it has gone a good distance. Thus, in too many instances, the labor leaders have taken the same advantage of the capitalists that for centuries he accused the capitalists of taking of him. The shoe, it seems, is on the other foot.

In numerous instances of late, labor and capital have realized that there is a middle ground on which they can work to mutual advantage. Many of them are so doing, realizing that each has certain unquestionable rights. They have decided to recognize those rights and respect them.

On the other hand, there are too many struggles still in existence in the nation today. The same old charges are flying back and forth. The capitalist in many cases thinks he's God, and that labor must bow down to him, for, after all, he's doing a man a great favor to let him work for him. It is quite natural, then, that labor sets out to reduce such a person, or persons, to rubble, no matter what the consequence, or to whom.

Still, many, many labor groups defy God and reason in their fight for closed forced into. Force is stupid; leaders should make their union so attractive that a person wants to join. True, labor argues that a person has no right to receive benefits for which they have fought and won over a period of years without supporting them. We agree, they have a good argument. But they are overlooking certain basic liberties, which, if denied to the individual, will eventually result in the fall and destruction of both labor and capital.

We go all the way with inducement by labor of the individual, but we cannot understand the foolishness of force. It amounts to this simple fact: If you have a product that is good, people will buy it, provided it's reasonable. And no matter how good a product is there are some who are not going to take it, even for free. Now, if you have to use force to cram down the gullet of those who won't buy, you are apt to make many onlookers sick to their stomachs, just as you are sickening the guy whose gullet you're cramming your product down.

Indeed, the pendulum swings and swings, but if the pendulum swingers would but take a look at the handwriting made by the moving finger, having writ, ... down through the centuries the history of capitalism they could avoid the same grevious mistakes. But human greed being what it is . . . well. But the moving finger moves on . . . that no one can stop.

Babe Ruth Teams Prove Pride Of Sponsor

Tuna Processing Gets First Try In Biloxi

One ton of yellow fin tuna, about 4 0to 50 cases, was recently packed by the Seacoast Packing Company of Biloxi, in the Gulf Coast's first large scale packing of tuna fish. Advantages of a tuna industry on the Gulf Coast, over the Pacific Coast, where most tuna has heretofore been precessed, lie in the year round open fishing grounds and in the one to two hundred mile trips to tuna grounds, compared to nine and ten month fishing seasons on the Paficic and trips of two to three thousand miles to fishing grounds. Harvey R. Bullis, Pascagoula, Chief of the Gulf of Mexico exploratory fishing program, reports that there are indications of a year round supply of yellow fin tuna in the Gulf.

Off-Shore Lands Are Offered For Oil Drilling

The Mineral Lease Commission of Mississippi will begin offering for lease the 800,000 acres of off-shore submerged land in Mississippi Sound on July 1, according to H. M. Morse, state oil and gas supervisor. The Commission is mapping the area into 5,000 acre plots. These will be leased to the highest bidders.

LEGION TO PRESENT MEDALS

Frank Chambers, Adjutant and Programs Director of the Mississippi American Legion, announced today that the 220 American Legion Posts throughout the state would present over a thousand Citizenship Medals to outstanding boys and girls in the graduating classes of Mississippi schools during the next two weeks.

For the past three years the Mississippi Department of the American Legion has been awarded the national trophy for presenting more citizenship medals than any other state in the nation.

This program is one of the many Americanism programs sponsored by the American Legion designed to teach our youth the responsibilities and obligations of a citizen and also to promote the teaching of Americanism in our schools.

Seven Petal Students On Dean's List

Two hundred and forty nine Mississippi Southern College students were recently named to the Dean's list for the 1956 Spring quarter, according to Registrar O. N. Darby.

The list of honor students compiled scholastic averages of 3.26 or better of a possible 4 quality points. Of this number, 136 are women, while the remaining 113 are men.

Thirty-six students had perfect records for the quarter, making "A" on every subject.

Among those on the Dean's List are: Grace K. Aikens, Edith Bennett, Ralph Dugger, Jr., Mona Kay Ford, Olga C. Jackson, Mary Jane Myers, and William Richardson, of Petal.

V F W Auxiliary Holds Meeting

By Geneve Gardner

The Ladies' Auxilliary to East Forrest Memorial Post 6040 V. F. W. held its regular meeting Monday night June 11, in the home of Mrs. Margie Clark.

Mrs. Margie Clark, president, presided over the meeting. Mrs. Eula Liston was appointed secretary upon the resignation of Mrs. Agnes Cooper who was appointed at the beginning of the year.

An interesting report on the encampment held in Jackson was given in a round-table discussion by delegate Mrs. Pearl Scott and Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Liston.

Ways - and - Means chairman, Mrs. Geneva Garner, gave a report on the show sponsored at the Petal Theatre May 16.

Mrs. Virginia Stewart, community-service chairman, gave her report for the month on the things that had been done for needy families. The auxilliary has started a store-house for the needy in which clothing and household articles that have been donated will be stored. This way the ladies will have things already on hand when an emergency arises. Anyone wishing to donate anything for this purpose may contact Mrs. Stewart or Mrs. Margie Clark.

Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Liston gave short impressive talks on member loyalty to each other and their duties to the men who fought for freedom.

Plans for a show to go to the V. A. Center in Biloxi were begun and will be completed in the near future.

The meeting adjourned with chaplain Virginia Stewart offering the closing prayer.

Coffee and cakes were served by the hostess, Mrs. Clark.

East Side--- of making senselessly inflamatory statements that can do nothing but harm their own cause. Their branding of the entire white population of Mississippi as murderers over the Till case, for example, undoubtedly turned many moderates to the other extreme.

"And the other extreme, of course, is being led by Southern politicians who have used the Supreme Court decision to resurrect an old horse that can be beat to death again without interference. In their zeal, they, too, are guilty of excesses.

"A few weeks ago, for example, the governor of Georgia got carried away in a speech at New Orleans and talked of "fighting to the end," and "no surrender" and "joining the battle." Next day he hastily had to make an explanation to the press that he was not talking about armed conflict or calling for another civil war.

"Personally, we too believe with Boyd Campbell that we are too preoccupied with the subject. "If everybody would shut up about it for a year, we'd all be better off."

"Amen."

Dated June 10th, I had a note from Ann Hulsey, Tuscaloosa, in which she sent me a clipping from a Birmingham magazine. It read: "A boy in Russellville I had always thought sort of shy with the girls, was driving me to a movie. The car went around a sharp curve and I slid across the seat to his side of the car. I commented on what a slippery seat his car had."

"He grinned, "I wax it."

This was submitted by someone to the Birmingham magazine. Anyway, Ann said in her note, "Only 15 days 'till I get a driver's license!"

Now, knowing Ann as I do, this bit of information ties in simply. Her parents, Doc and Pete, can just expect some mighty slippery seat covers on their car.

And while on the subject of the younger set, about two weeks ago my three year old daughter, Karen, her grandmother Porter, and Uncle Burbon, went fishing in Ike Farris' lake up in Jones County. Billie went after Karen in the late afternoon and asked her how many fish she caught. Karen informed her mother that she had caught five fishes, three crocodiles, and two snakes. Upon hearing this tall fish tale, Billie said to Karen, "You must not have fished all afternoon." "No," said Karen, "I and Ike went down for a couple of beers." After replacing her upper plate, Billie ventured, "Well, is that ALL you and Ike did?"

"Yep. 'Cept Ike gave me a hundred dollars worth of firecrackers."

After that last remark all Billie could get out of Karen was: "Hic."

Frankly, I just don't know what happened between Karen and Ike.

Having met recently with a group from Harvard University, I have paid closer attention to anything I hear or read about Harvard. In a movie I saw last week there was a Boy Scout who had found a dead body for which the reward was ten thousand dollars. Said he: "And if I get the reward money I'll send my little brother to a GOOD college, and I'll just go to Harvard."

A recent headline: "Two Japs Who Tried Suicide Will Marry" . . . Some people it seems are just compelled to do something rash.

In 1955, 8,130 pedestrians were killed in U.S. traffic accidents.

Weekend crashes accounted for 15,766,090 hurt during 1955.

NiCarbazin SERVICE NEWS

Q. Is NiCARBAZIN consistently effective against coccidiosis mortality?

A. Yes. Reports from every broiler area show that NiCARBAZIN provides the most effective curb against coccidiosis death loss. In one area, for example, growers reported no coxy death loss in 174,542 birds protected with NiCARBAZIN. With these same growers, mortality ran as high as 12 per cent in 48,500 birds on another coccidiostat.

Q. How does NiCARBAZIN compare with other coccidiostats in its effect on market weight?

A. In recent comparative feeding trials, NiCARBAZIN-protected birds averaged 0.19 lb. more than birds on another coccidiostat. This extra weight per bird gave growers 10,564 lbs. added market weight for the 55,600 birds on NiCARBAZIN feeds.

Q. What other benefits may I expect after NiCARBAZIN removes the coccidiosis problem?

A. Your birds should show a gain in feed efficiency. In addition, they will weigh more, dress out heavier, and show a better skin color. These benefits mean you'll cut production costs and command better prices for your birds. It all adds up to greater poultry profits for you.

Q. Is there a reduction in overall mortality, as well as coccidiosis mortality, when NiCARBAZIN is used in feeds?

A. Several poultry diseases are caused by secondary infections which may develop in birds already weakened by such conditions as coccidiosis. Because NiCARBAZIN can practically eliminate coxy damage, birds are better able to resist secondary infections.

No Coccidiosis Problems

SUBSTITUTED TRUSTEE'S
NOTICE OF SALE

WHEREAS, on May 27, 1954, Flora Myers, a single person, executed a Deed of Trust to B. H. Baker, Trustee, for the benefit of Kaiser C. Runnels, on the hereinafter described real estate, which Deed of Trust appears of record in Book 171, on pages 187-189, of the record of mortgages and deeds of trust on land, in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Forrest County, Mississippi; and,

WHEREAS, by the terms of said Deed of Trust it is specifically provided that the beneficiary may, at any time deemed proper, appoint a successor to the trustee therein named; and,

WHEREAS, the said beneficiary, the owner of the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, appointed and substituted the undersigned as trustee therein in the place and stead of the said B. H. Baker, the trustee originally named therein, which written substitution of trustee, dated June 4th, 1956, on said date, has been spread of record and signed by the said Kaiser C. Runnels, beneficiary, and attested by the Chancery Clerk of said County, on the said deed of trust, as recorded in said Book 171, on pages 187-189, of the records of mortgages and deeds of trust on land in the office of the Chancery Clerk of said County; and,

WHEREAS, default having been made in the payment of the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, and the said beneficiary having declared the full amount thereof which is unpaid, due and owing; and pursuant to the law and the terms and provisions of said Deed of Trust, having been duly directed by said beneficiary to foreclose the same as substituted trustee therein, for the purpose of paying and satisfying said indebtedness:

NOW THEREFORE, public notice is given that I, the said undersigned substituted trustee, will on the first Monday of July, 1956, begin the 2nd day of July, 1956, at the easterly, front and main door of the Court House of Forrest County, Mississippi ,in the City of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, during legal hours, as provided by law for such foreclosure sales, offer for sale and sell at public outcry to the highest bidder for cash for the purpose of satisfying said indebtedness, the real estate conveyed by said Deed of Trust and being situated in Forrest County, Mississippi, described as follows, to-wit:

The East One-half (E½) of Lots One and Two (1 & 2), in Block Two (2), according to the Magruder and Company Survey or Addition to the City of Hattiesburg, Mississippi, as per map or plat thereof on file in the office of the Chancery Clerk of Forrest County, Mississippi, together with all improvements and appurtenance thereto belonging.

I will convey only such title as is vested in me by said Deed of Trust as Substituted Trustee therein.

WITNESS my signature on this the 6th day of June, 1956, on which date I have posted a true copy of this notice of sale on the Bulletin Board at the easterly, front and main door of the Court House of Forrest County, Mississippi.

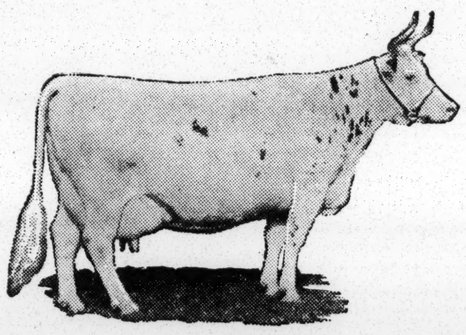
JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH



The Dairy Farmer contributes much to the betterment of any community.. And the East Forrest Trade area is indeed fortunate to have so many fine dairy farmers. To the dairy farmers and all those responsible for the rapid growth of the dairy industry in South Mississippi, we pay this tribute.

- - - And Remember - - -

PROSPERITY FOLLOWS THE DAIRY COW!

There are 65 Grade A Dairies in Forrest County.

Three thousand gallons of milk are produceed each day in Forrest County.

Income from milk each year is estimated at $500,000 in the county.

Ten cents worth of milk gives you almost twice as much protein as does ten cents worth of round steak, twenty-three percent more than a ten cent purchase of hamburger or eggs.

Income in the State of Mississippi from Grade A Milk is approximately $45,000,000 annually.

Income from milk each year is estimated at $500,000 in the county.

Ten years ago five percent of the milk sold was pastuerized, and today, ninety-five percent is so treated.

Dairy foods provide thirty percent of a family's nutritional requirements for fifteen percent of the family food dollar.

Income in the State of Mississippi from Grade A Milk is approximately $45,000,000 annually.

These and other reasons give ample occasion for us to become more familiar with the dairy industry, and what it means to each person in Forrest County.
